REMEMBER THE POOR .- "The Poor ye have always uth you."-Mrs. E. B. Mills, Directress of the Ladies Union Benevolent and Employment Society, on the part of the institution, again appeals to a generous public to aid their disinterested efforts in the cause of the poor destitute females suffering under the

The association says: The rule laid down by this society in affording relief to these poor is founded on the principle of encouraging them in habits of industry, and furnishing them with work suited to their capacities and circumstances. In justice to aughters and mothers of want, they ever prefer "to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow" than the true American spirit, self-respect and independence of feeling; and will not this spirit recommend these poor to a benevolent public? And will it not he made manifest by their affording that liberal support to the society whose members vo untarily devote their time and means to carry out their benevolent work? Who will doubt it? Have a generous public in past years ever failed to meet the calls of h nevolence and care for the destitute poor when the necessity occurs of doing so? The ladies of the society, after a lapse of sixteen years' labor as their almoners, can youch for the liberality of our citizens. both ladies and gentlemen. The most fastidious and rigid, in their benevolent acts among us, have had no cause for withholding their mite in this case, for they have daily witnessed the benefits of the system they have supported by the comfort they have witnessed as experienced by the poor thus relieved by the society. The ladies of this society have determined to make further exertions to replenish their now empty treasury by interesting the ladies and gentlemen of our city and neighborhood to contribute their aid to their benevolent exertions. The winter is rapidly approaching, and no means are in the hands of the society to meet its requirements. Fuel is an indispensable articles to meet the necessities of the poor. The society have exhausted their pecumary means, and to enable the supply of work to be furnished the society has been compelled to incur obligations that must be met at as early a day as Contributions will be therefore thankfully received by either of the Managers of the Society. They would in this connexion invite public attention to the articles of clothing on sale at their store-house on Seventh street adjoining the Odd Fellows' Hall: and also at the Employment house on Capitol Hill A street south, near First street east, where they will find the articles of work made up by the women employed, consisting of many useful garments, &c. Besides which, private work is made up to order. A little more than the actual cost of the articles made up is charged, it will be seen that every article is put at the lowest price.

THE NAVY YARD .- On the roll of the navy vard are seventy-six ship carpenters, principally employed in putting together the frames or ribs for the new steamer; ten or twelve are now done. Great delay has been experienced by the want of keel pieces and other particular parts, which are contracted for in other places; but these mechanics have already worked out two thirds of the ship's frame, and will build such a vessel as cannot be surpassed any where. Workmen have commenced aving stone on the extension for the boiler, finishing, and blacksmith's departments. The dock is being filled up. The south extension of the ship house is The new ordnauce department is spacious, and well adapted to the purposes of construction. Here may been seen a brass eight-inch mortar, which was surrendered to the illustrious Washington at the hallte of Yorktown. Our mechanics have mounted this mortar on a tasteful stand composed of thirteen American wood. old thirteen States. Here are also numbers of Boarman's Shrapuels, capable of firing thirteen rounds a minute. Thirty-rix shells and fity-four canisters are considered a set for each gun.

Lieut. Dahlgreen, the officer in charge of this important branch of the public service, has won a wide reputation by his science and skill, and he is ably assisted by Messrs. Halroyd, Thompson, and other excellent mechanics.

PRESIDENT'S MOUNTED GUARDS' BALL.-This will be one of the grandest fetes of the season, beyend doubt-the whole company and the various committees taking an active part to make the ball something unusual in Washington. The military companies of the city will, probably, all be represented-some will be present from a distance, and in uniform-the ladies will be there in all their beauty, and citizens and strangers swell the tide of delighted participants. It takes place at Odd Fellows' Hall, next Thursday evening. Supper and refreshments are in charge of experienced caterers, and when we say that Prof. Prosper; will have charge of the music, assisted by Prot. Weber, of the coulion band, no one can doubt as to the quality of the sweet sounds to be discoursed and danced to. The Quickstep, composed by Prosperi, and dedicated to Captain Peck. will be performed, and, in short, the whole material of the ball is arranged under the best auspices.

BLACK TESTIMONY AGAINST WHITE.-It will be remembered that we reported the case of R. Rainey vs. Bon. Wm. Slidell, in which the latter produced a free colored witness, who was rejected by Justice Grubb. Judgement was given against Mr. Slidell by the Justice, and he appealed to the Circuit Court. That tribunal has confirmed the decision of the magistrate. The suit was for livery service at Mr. Rainey's livery stable. A. Wylie, Esq., appeared for Mr. Shuell, and R. H. Laskey was counsel for Mr. Rainey. Such testimony, we understand, is admissable in Louisiana, consequently Senator Slidell, of that State, contended that it was the same here, but our court has unhesitatingly decided to the GRAND FIREMEN'S BALL.-The Northern Liber ties' Fire Company, (No. 6) it will be observed, are getting up a grand ball, to take place at Odd Fellows' Hall on Monday, the 6th of November. It will be the opening firemen's display of the season, and one that will do justi e to the liberality of the Nurthern Liberties' firemen. The names of the acave managers are a guarantee of this. See advertisement in another column.

LAST NIGHT OF THE PANORAMA .- This evening, the exhibition of the grand panorama of the deluge closes at Odd Fellows' Hall, presenting the last opportunity of beholding the great work. Those who hav : not seen it should embrace the only chance leit for them if they desire to see a representation of scriptural history of an interesting character. RAIN .- Confuting the calculations of the weatherwise, who said that there could not be a change of weather until the full of the moon, we have a rain this morning, and heavy cloudy skies. It is a welcome rain to lay the dust of the city, and is quite acceptable to the fields of the country.

GUTTER NUISANCE .- A correspondent briefly, yet

pointedly says to the Star-"Will you please call the attention of the city authorities to the very filthy condition of the gutter on the west side of Eleventh street, between Pennsylvania avenue and E street, and save us from CHOLERA."

RESUMED AGAIN .- It will be perceived by the advertisement that the trips to Mount Vernon are to be resumed again on Tuesday next. The boats have been thoroughly repaired during the suspension of the trips, and are now in good order.

ANNUAL CHARITY SERMON .- To-morrow morning. the annual charity serm on is to be preached in St Patrick's church. The Rev. Mr. Burns, of St. mathews, will officiate.

WATCH RETURNS .- Thomas Reese, for drunkenness and profanity was fined. Sarah Harp, vagrant sent to the workhouse 90 days. A. P. Armstrong. brought in a vagrant, was dismissed. E. Bulger, found drunk in the commons, was sent to the work house for 30 days. Capt. Birch, the vigilant head of the Auxiliary Guard, informs us that he never found the city more orderly than at present.

THE CHOLERA IN IRELAND .- The cholera, we are sorry to say, is increasing in Dublin. The Freeman's Journal there, under date of the 12th of October, says:

"Cholera has been, for the last week, making steady advances. Creeping through the lanes and alleys, it has advanced into the streets, and the hospital returns now 'show such a rapid increase as forbids the hope of a subsidence of the disease before the wonted course shall have been more or less completely run.' "

Mrs. H. on Friday evening was preparing to retire to rest, when a spark from the fire, before which she was sitting. caught to the light materials of her dress, and in a few moments she was enveloped in flames. Failing to extinguish them, she rushed into the open hall, and cried for assistance. The flames were extinguished, but her injuries were so severe that, after a night of intense suffering, she died. Yesterday afternoon her funeral was attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends. Her remains were interred in the Episcopal Cemetery.

The factory of the Mount Vernon Manufacturing Company came near being destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening, from a large roll of cotton taking fire from a gas burner. It was extinguished, however, through the exertions of those in the room, with but little damage.

The Co and Co's Club Ball came off on the evening of Thursday at Sarepta Hall. A large number of belles honored the club with their presence, and the old hall rang again to the merry music, keeping time to bounding feet. Cotillon, polka, quadrille, waltz, and schottische, succeeded one another in ministering to the enjoyment of the company, and at a late hour the party senarated.

The Synod of the O. S. Presbyterian Church, in the State of Virginia, commenced its session in the 1st Presbyterian Church in this place on the mornng of Wednesday, and still continues in session. Fifty-one ministers and thirty-one ruling elders were present at the opening. Rev. W. Brown, of Augusta is Moderator; R. L. Dabney, D. D., and Rev. . H. Smith, Clerks.

The ladies are busy in arranging for the grand fair of the Hydraulion, and our firemen are making ready for the procession.

THE CHOLERA IN THE ALLIED ARMY .- By the latest accounts the cholera was making awful havoc among the allied troops in the Crimea, though the stirring incidents, of that other "harvest of death"-the battle of Alma -throw its quieter horrers for the time being into the shade. We quote a Constantinople letter in the Times:

"The epidemic is said to increase daily; and it is certain that whenever the men are exposed to sudden changes of temperature a great mortality follows. The disease increased after the disembarkation, and the exposure to wind and rain on the night of the 14th caused the deaths of many. General Tylden, of the Engineers, was struck down most suddenly. He was riding about quite well on the evening of the 21st, and by 10 o'clock on the ensuing evening was a corpse, The worst feature of the malady here is that it does not give its premonitory warning, but men, healthy and unsuspecting, are carried off after a few hours' illness.

We IT SHOULD be universally known-for it is strictly true—that indigestion is the parent of a large proportion of the fatal diseases. Dysentery, diarrhose, choiers morbus, liver complaint, and many other diseases enumerated in the city inspector's weekly catalogue of deaths, are generated by indigestion alone. Think of that, dyspepties; think of it all who suffer from disordered stomachs, and if you are willing to be guided by advice, founded upon experience, resort at once—don't delay a day—to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C.
